FOOD NOTES

On the Web: 37 cheeses from Little Italy

At Di Palo's in New York's Little Italy, customers sometimes arrive with a suitcase and fill it with cheeses, salamis and imported pasta. That's no longer necessary. Last month the 83-year-old institution launched a new Web site. It offers 37 types of cheese, including seven Italian pecorinos and Parmigiano-Reggianos made with fall or spring milk. There are also salami, olive oil, vinegar, coffee, honey and imported pasta and sweets. Overnight shipping is a flat rate of $9.99 on orders over $85. Order at www.dipaloselects.com.
